

TEMPLATE I

ACADEMIC PROFILE OF A-NEST

A) General

Title Professor Dott.

First name

Angelo

Surname: Santagostino

Mandatory

Male

Female

Department: Economics

Position/Grade/Category: Jean Monnet

Professor, ad personam Chair

PhD Title

- _____
_____

Accredited to supervise doctoral theses?

Yes

No

Address

Postcode

City

Country

Telephone 1

Telephone 2

Fax

Website

Email

Educational Background

BA

University: Bocconi of Milano, Italia

Department:

MA/MS

University: Keio, Tokyo, Japan

Department, Economics

PhD

University

Department

Publication list

1. 2005: A Magna Europa for a new world order: Turkey and Israel as full members. Reflections and proposal, Turkish Review of Middle East Studies, Annual 2004/15.
2. 2005: I perché di una "Magna Europa", Dialoghi, Anno V. n. 2
3. 2005: A candidate different from the others. Turkey and the European Union. CLUB, Brescia. ISBN 9788890516733
4. 2006: L'Europa da Roma a Roma e oltre (Europe from Rome to Rome...and beyond) , CLUB, Brescia. ISBN 9788890516757
5. 2006: The EU's Textile and Clothing Industry and the Challenge of China, Turkish Review of Middle East Studies, Annual 2005, Foundation for Middle East and Balkan Studies, Istanbul.
6. 2006: with F. Fossati and G. Garofalo: Turkey and the European Union. A candidate different from the others. Political Aspects, in M.G :Melchionni (Ed.), «Les relations trans-méditerranéennes au temps présent: modernisation, conflits, processus d'intégration, dialogue interculturel», Rubbettino, Soveria Mannelli.
7. 2006: The EU's borders and Enlargements in perspective, "Insight Turkey", Vol. 8, n. 2.
8. 2006: Alliance of Civilizations and Solidarity between Civilizations: A Lost Opportunity for the EU,

“Insight Turkey”, Vol. 8, n.3. 9. 2006: European Studies in Turkey: Present State (2004) and Proposals. A re-presentation two years later... with some regrets and proposals. Ankara Review of European Studies Vol. 6, No:4 (Fall: 2006), p. 81-104 10. 2008: How Europe can dialogue with Islam. “Eurolimes”, Volume 5 11. 2009: The Eu Mediterranean policy, an assessment ten years after, “Eurolimes”, Volume 8 12. 2010: Come l’Ue ha domato (parzialmente) il Leviatano. Il contributo del pensiero liberale , in “Culture economiche e scelte politiche nella costruzione europea”, Cacucci, Bari, 2010, pagg. 105-122. ISBN: 978-88-8422-964-9 13. 2010: with Andrea Fornari and Luisa Bravo: “L’Union Européenne e le Mexique: l’Accord régional de partenariat comme instrument géopolitique face à l’Aléna et à la globalisation » Eurolimes, Vol.10, Oradea University Press, Bruylant, pagg. 150-160, ISSN: 1841-9259
Title of publication 1: (2011)	Central and East Europe’s Transition to Market Economy: problems related to the single market and monetary union, pp173-204, in Naveed Ahmad Tahir (ed.), East and Central Europe: the impact of EU membership on foreign policy, domestic politics and economy, Area Study Centre for Europe, University of Karachi – Hanns Seidel Foundation, pagg. 243. ISBN: 978-969-8551-21-6
Abstract (Limit: 5 lines):	Since membership CEECs economies have established solid links with the old EU Member States in terms of trade and investments. Four are part of the euro. Crisis has revealed that their main weakness is not in the private sector but in the public one. Because of competition private sector has improved competitiveness, but the deterioration of public finance represents a constraint for future growth and could affect negatively the private sector.
Title of publication 2: (2010)	How the EU has (partially) tamed the Leviathan. The contribution of the liberal thought, published in “Culture economiche e scelte politiche” (Economic cultures and political choices) Edited by Daniela Felisini, AUSE, Cacucci Editore, Bari, 2010, from page 105 to page 121. ISBN: 978-88-8422-964-9
Abstract:	This paper analyses and compared the Keynesian and liberal approach to public finance and to the role of public spending. Compares the Werner and Delors plans for economic governance. Contains consideration on the perspectives of EU economic governance.
Title of publication 3: (2011)	Momenti dell’europeismo liberale da Erasmus ai tempi di Einaudi (Moments of European Liberalism from Erasmus to the times of Einaudi), pp. 265-342, in
Abstract:	“Luigi Einaudi, una visione liberale a guida della storia: gli Scritti Europei, il Commiato”, ( L.E., a liberal vision as a guide of history) Giuseppe Laterza Editore, 2011, Bari, pp. 345 , ISBN 978-88-8231-580-1 This essay is part of the book collecting the European writings of Einaudi.

	In this essay I argue that the liberal thought has provided the basis the federalist and Europeanist thought which are at the basis of the European construction. I review this thought starting from Erasmus and continuing with Kant, Cobden, Mises, Robbins, Hayek and Einaudi.
Title of publication 4: (2013)	:"Luigi Einaudi, the architect of Europe?" , Rivista di Studi Politici Internazionali , July-September, 2013 , n° 319.
Abstract:	Is Luigi Einaudi the architect of what we call today the European Union? This question emerges from his European writings and a comparison with the various treaties which landmark the history of the building of Europe. Einaudi's proposals for a European Federation are also part of treaties which have never been ratified: i.e., the European Defence Community (Edc) and the European Constitution. In this article I go through some of his European writings, showing how his considerations and proposals have provided the foundations to the European treaties and how much they have shaped their structure.
Title of publication 5: (2012)	"The Contribution of the Italian Liberal Thought to the European Union. Einaudi and his heritage" , Atlantic Economic Journal , Vol.40, n.2 December 2012. (DOI) 10.1007/s11293-012-9336-0.
Abstract:	The Italian classical liberal tradition of Federalism and European integration is well founded. Starting with Luigi Einaudi, who took up the heritage of Carlo Cattaneo, it has continued with Giovanni Malagodi, Giovanni Demaria, and Bruno Leoni. A foresight, often impressive, is the thread linking Einaudi's writings on European federation. Between the twenties and the early fifties of the 20th century, Einaudi traced with great precision the profile and many details of a politically and economically unified Europe
Title of publication 6: (2013)	"Cave Europa! Turkey 2023: The Alternative to the EU of an Economic Super-Power" , Journal of Social Studies , Adam Academy, n°. 1, June 2013 11-27, ISSN: 2146-4936, pp 11-27
Abstract:	Once it will be evident that Europe will not open its doors to Turkey a political and economic dynamic that could change equilibriums in Europe and Asia could take place. High growth is likely to continue in Turkey, making the Country the next global power, presumably by the beginning of the decade 2020-30. Turkey will so extend by large its influence on the nearby region: the Western Balkans (especially Albania, Bosnia and Macedonia) and the Turkic Republics. The interaction of these elements could determine a convergence of interests toward deeper and deeper political and economic integration.

2014: “Human Capital, Economic Growth, and the European Union 2020 Strategy”. Journal of European Studies, Area Study Centre for Europe, University of Karachi, Vol 30, n.1 pp.18-35, P-ISSN 0258-9680

2014: “The Relations of human Capital to Economic Growth and the EU 2020 Strategy. A market Based Approach in Memory of Gary Backer”, Sosyal Bilimler Dergisi/Journal of Social Science, Adam Akademi, Volume 4, Number 2, December 2014 pp.1-12 , ISSN: 2146-4936 (revised version of the article published on Journal of European Studies, Area Study Centre for Europe, University of Karachi, Vol 30, n.1.

2014: “Luigi Einaudi e i liberali italiani del suo tempo: federazione, mercato unico e moneta unica, in: L’Italia e l’unità europea dal Risorgimento a oggi. Idee e protagonisti”, a cura di Umberto Morelli e Daniela Preda, Padova, CEDAM, 2014, pp. 117-134, ISBN 978-88-13-34061-2

2015: “Luigi Einaudi, EU competencies, fiscal policy and the missing Maastricht criteria”, Atlantic Economic Journal, Vol.43, n.1, March 2015

2015: “Luigi Einaudi: the liberal father of Europe” pp. 120, Orion, Ankara, ISBN 978-605-5145-42-2

2015: L’Unione Europea: una visione liberale, Rubbettino, pp. 298,

2015: The liberal bases of the European competition policy. The case of gas market. (forthcoming)

C) Teaching experiences: 2012-2015
Name: Angelo Santagostino
Role: Teacher
Title of the teaching course: Theories of European Integration Year: 2013 - 2015 Summary of content: The aim of the course is providing the students with a theoretical framework of political and economic integration and its main realization: the European Union. Federalism and confederalism; functionalism and neo-functionalism; liberal intergovernmentalism and structuralism are dealt with in the first part. Real and monetary theory of economic integration are presented and discussed in the second part.
Title of the teaching course: Political Economy of the European Union. Year: 2013-2015 Summary of content: The aim of the course is giving a general view on the policies of the European Union and focusing on two of them: the European Monetary Union and the EU fiscal policy. EU policies are somehow interconnected that why the course will provide students with a general

view on EU economic policies: trade policy, agricultural policy, competition policy, competitiveness policy, enlargement policy, among others. In these last years monetary and fiscal policies have been at the centre of the attention and concerns of policymakers and citizens.
Title of the teaching course: World Economy (WTO and EU commercial policy) Year: 2013- 2015 Summary of content: The multilateral system and the WTO. The EU common commercial policy.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION: Since September 2014 and until August 2015 is active a JM Programme. Several activities related with EU integration are under realization.
---	--